

California Trip #122

This was a day trip to visit relatives in San Francisco. We visited the Academy of Science and had dinner at the Beach Chalet which offers a grand view of the ocean. May 6, 2012.

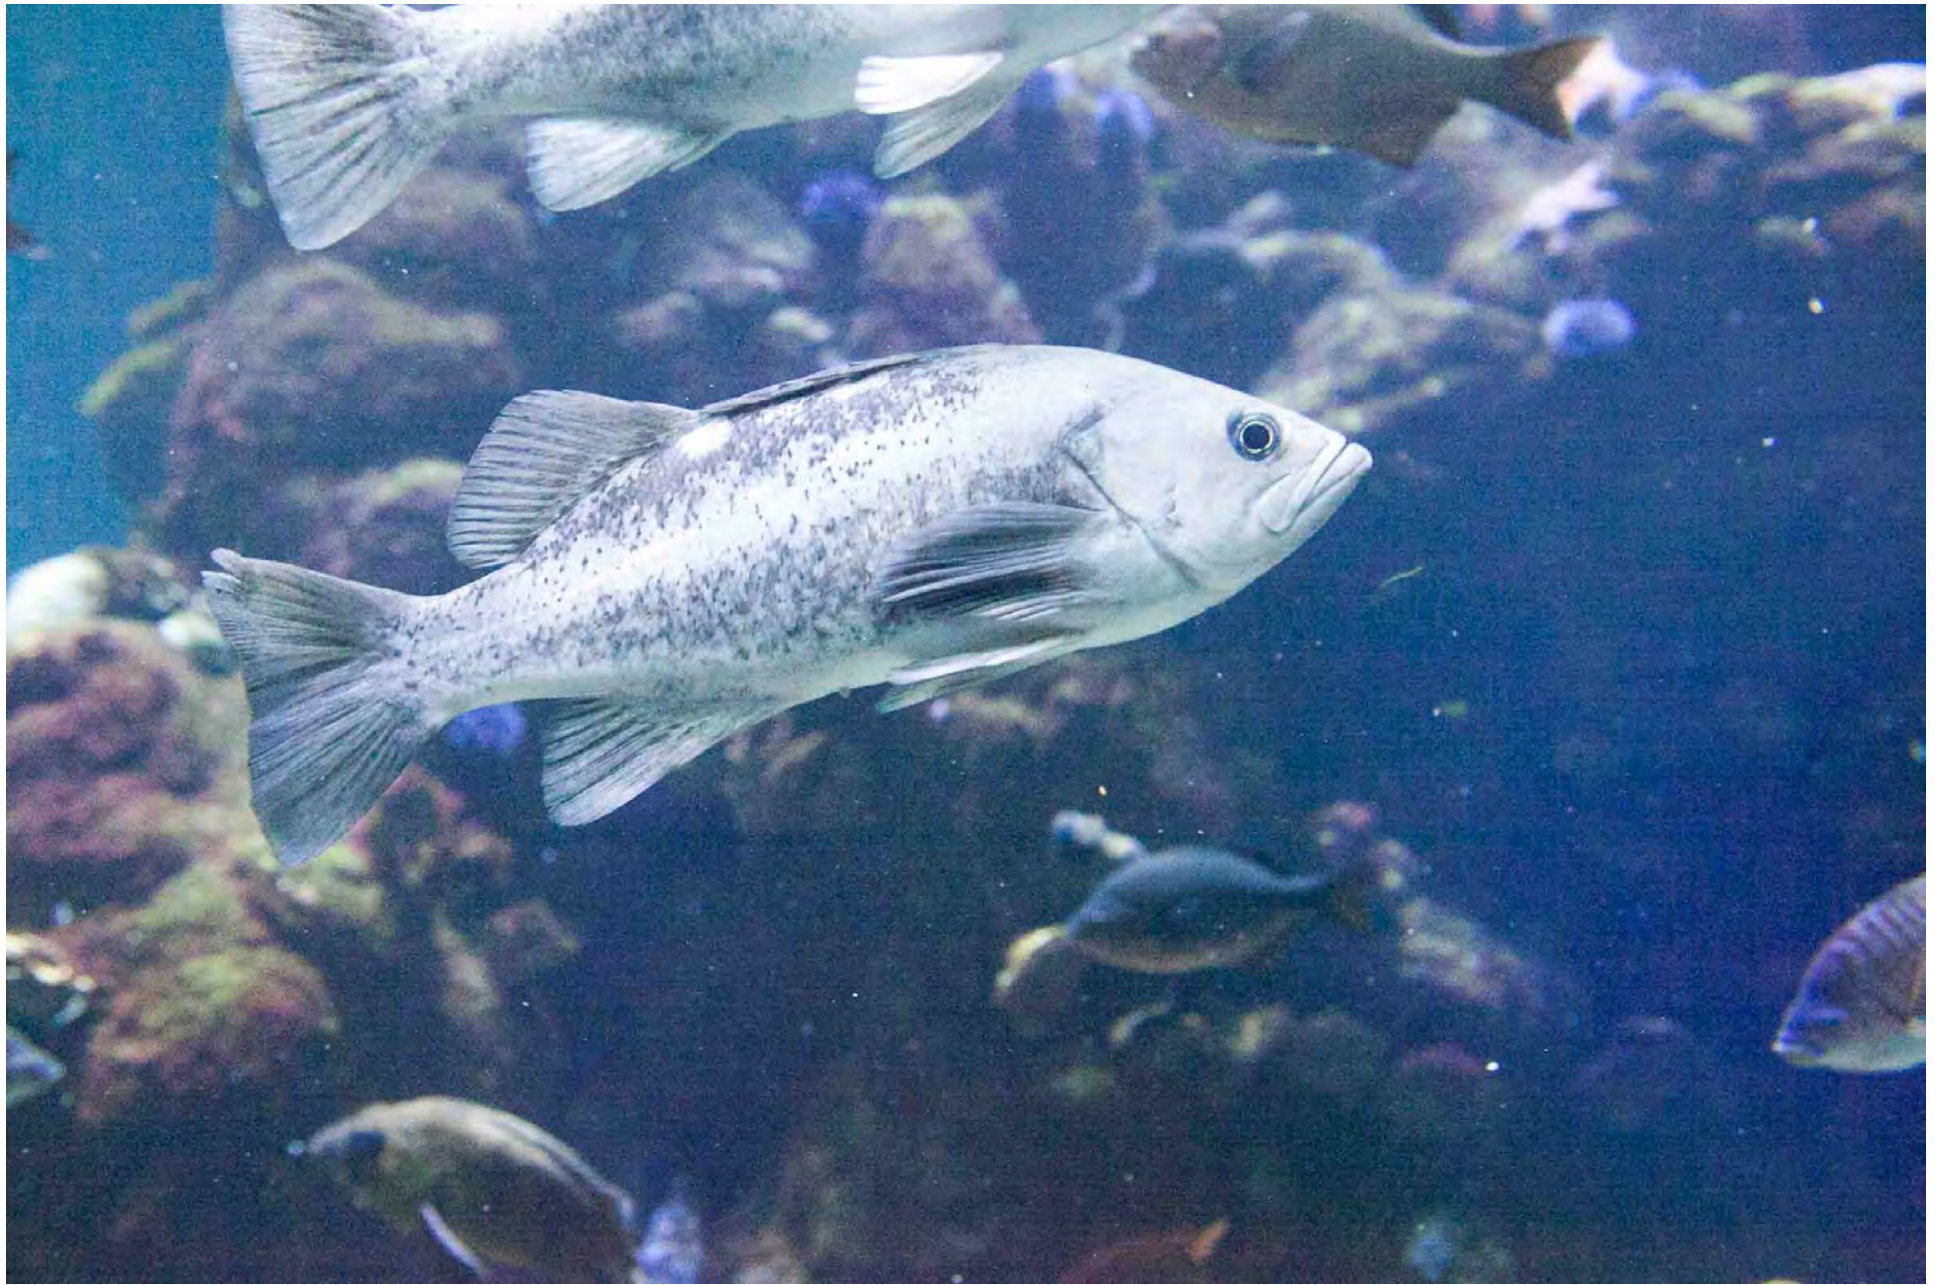

The Beach Chalet is on the edge of Golden Gate Park. It has a long history. It is famed for its WPA murals and mosaics.

It has two restaurants – the downstairs patio and the ocean view dining room. Food is good, prices reasonable. It is a hang out for locals.
