

San Francisco

The San Francisco City Hall.

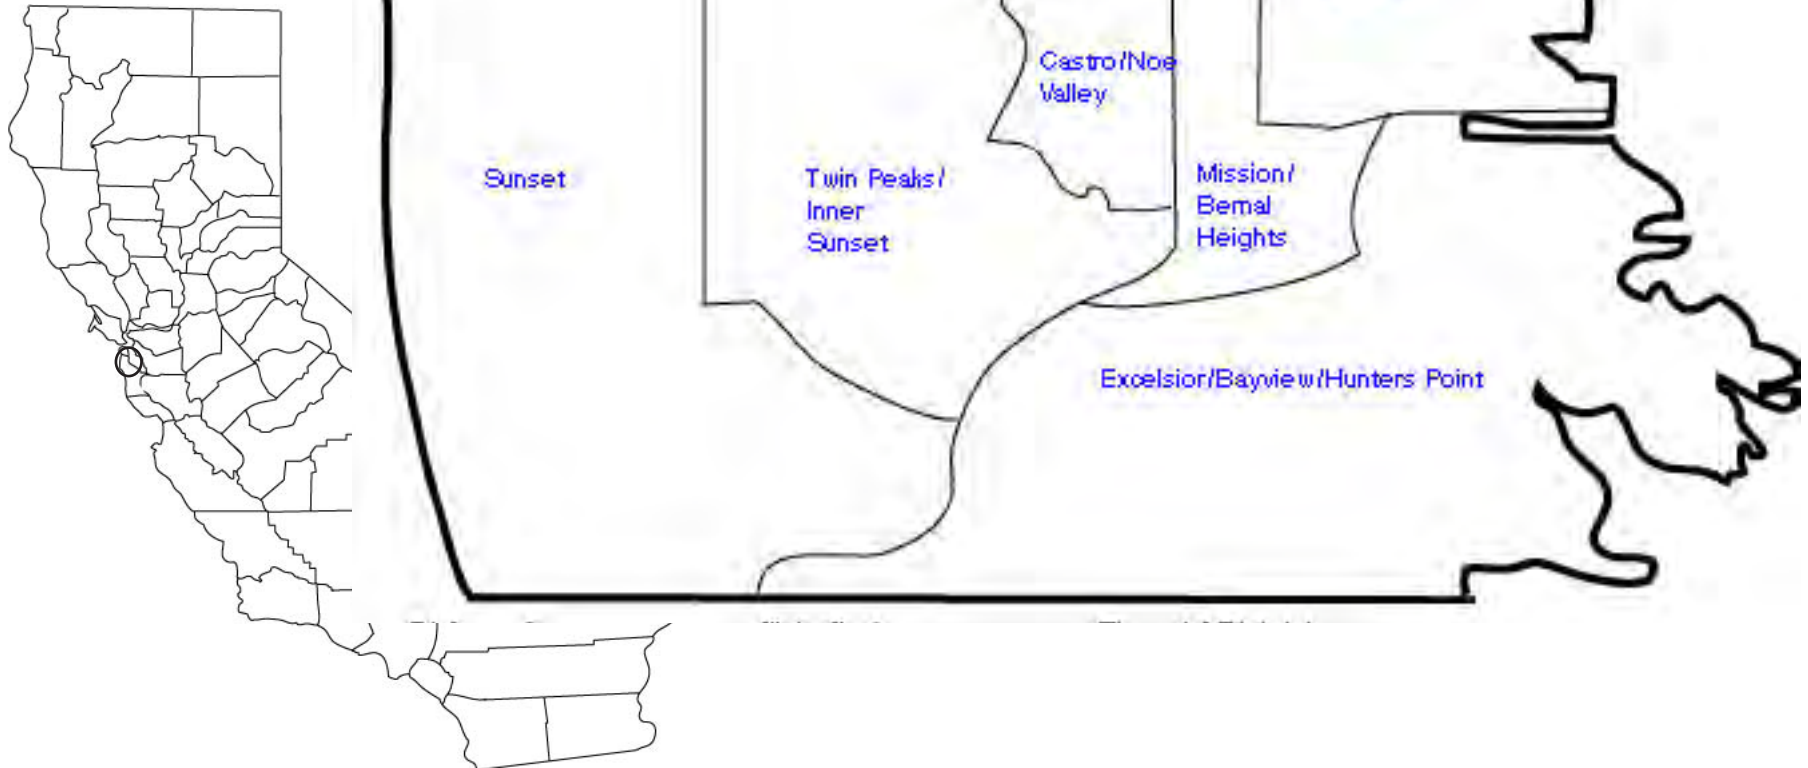

Part 6 of 6: Presidio, Fort Point, Palace of Fine Arts, Golden Gate Park, Teagarden, deYoung, Conservatory, Academy of Sciences.

San Francisco

Golden Gate Park is one of the great parks in the world.

Larry Stevens
©2012
stevens.lawrence@comcast.net

Presidio

The Presidio has been a military installation since 1776. It was turned over to the National Park Service in 1994. (July 2002)

Presidio

(July 2002)

Presidio

Housing at the former military base is now rented out to civilians, This makes a nice little commuter fleet.(July 2002)

EMANUEL SCHELLER
Co. D, 21st Infantry U.S.A.
Born in Insbruck Austria
Died
MAY 5, 1882.
Aged
42 years.

Presidio

July 2002)

(July 2002)

(July 2002)

Fort Point

Fort Point dates back to the Civil War. (July 2002)

(July 2002)

Palace of Fine Arts

The Palace of Fine Arts is the only thing left of the Pan Pacific Exposition of 1915 which celebrated the completion of the Panama Canal. (July 2002)

Palace of Fine Arts

Palace of Fine Arts

(July 2002)

Palace of Fine Arts

(July 2002)

Palace of Fine Arts

(July 2002)

Palace of Fine Arts

(July 2002)

Palace of Fine Arts

(July 2002)

Palace of Fine Arts

(July 2002)

Golden Gate Park

The two windmills in Golden Gate actually did pump water once. The north windmill is called the Dutch Windmill. (July 2002)

Golden Gate Park

July 2002)

Golden Gate Park

July 2002)

Golden Gate Park

July 2002)

Golden Gate Park

July 2002)

Golden Gate Park

July 2002)

Golden Gate Park

William Hammond Hall laid out the park in 1870. John McLaren was the engineer who built the park. (July 2002)

Japanese Teagarden

The teagarden was built for a festival in 1894. Makoto Hagiwara persuaded John McLaren to make the garden perfect. (May 2010)

Japanese Teagarden

(May 2010)

Japanese Teagarden

(May 2010)

Japanese Teagarden

(May 2010)

Japanese Teagarden

(May 2010)

Japanese Teagarden

(May 2010)

Japanese Teagarden

(May 2010)

Conservatory

(December 2008)

Conservatory

(December 2008)

Conservatory

(December 2008)

Conservatory

The 60 foot high and 240 foot long greenhouse was built in 1878.
(December 2008)

Academy of Sciences

The Academy was founded in 1853. It was housed in several buildings until the 1906 Earthquake. The current site was constructed in 1916. The entire building was reconstructed in 2008. (May 2010)

Academy of Sciences

(May 2010)

Academy of Sciences

(May 2010)

deYoung Museum

The first museum was built in 1895. The museum was damaged by the Loma Prieta Earthquake. The new museum opened in 2005. (September 2007)

deYoung Museum

(September 2007)

deYoung Museum

(September 2007)

deYoung Museum

(September 2007)

Treasure Island

Telegraph Hill as seen from Treasure Island. (May 2005)

Treasure Island

(May 2005)

Treasure Island

(May 2005)

Treasure Island

The island was built in 1936 and 1937 for a world's fair. Then it became a military base. Now it is back in civilian use with a population of 2,500. (May 2005)

View from Twin Peaks

In the distance is Mt. Diablo and across the Bay there is downtown Oakland as seen from Twin Peaks. (July 2002)

View from Twin Peaks

(July 2002)

View from Twin Peaks

*Sutro Tower transmits TV signals for the City.
(July 2002)*

