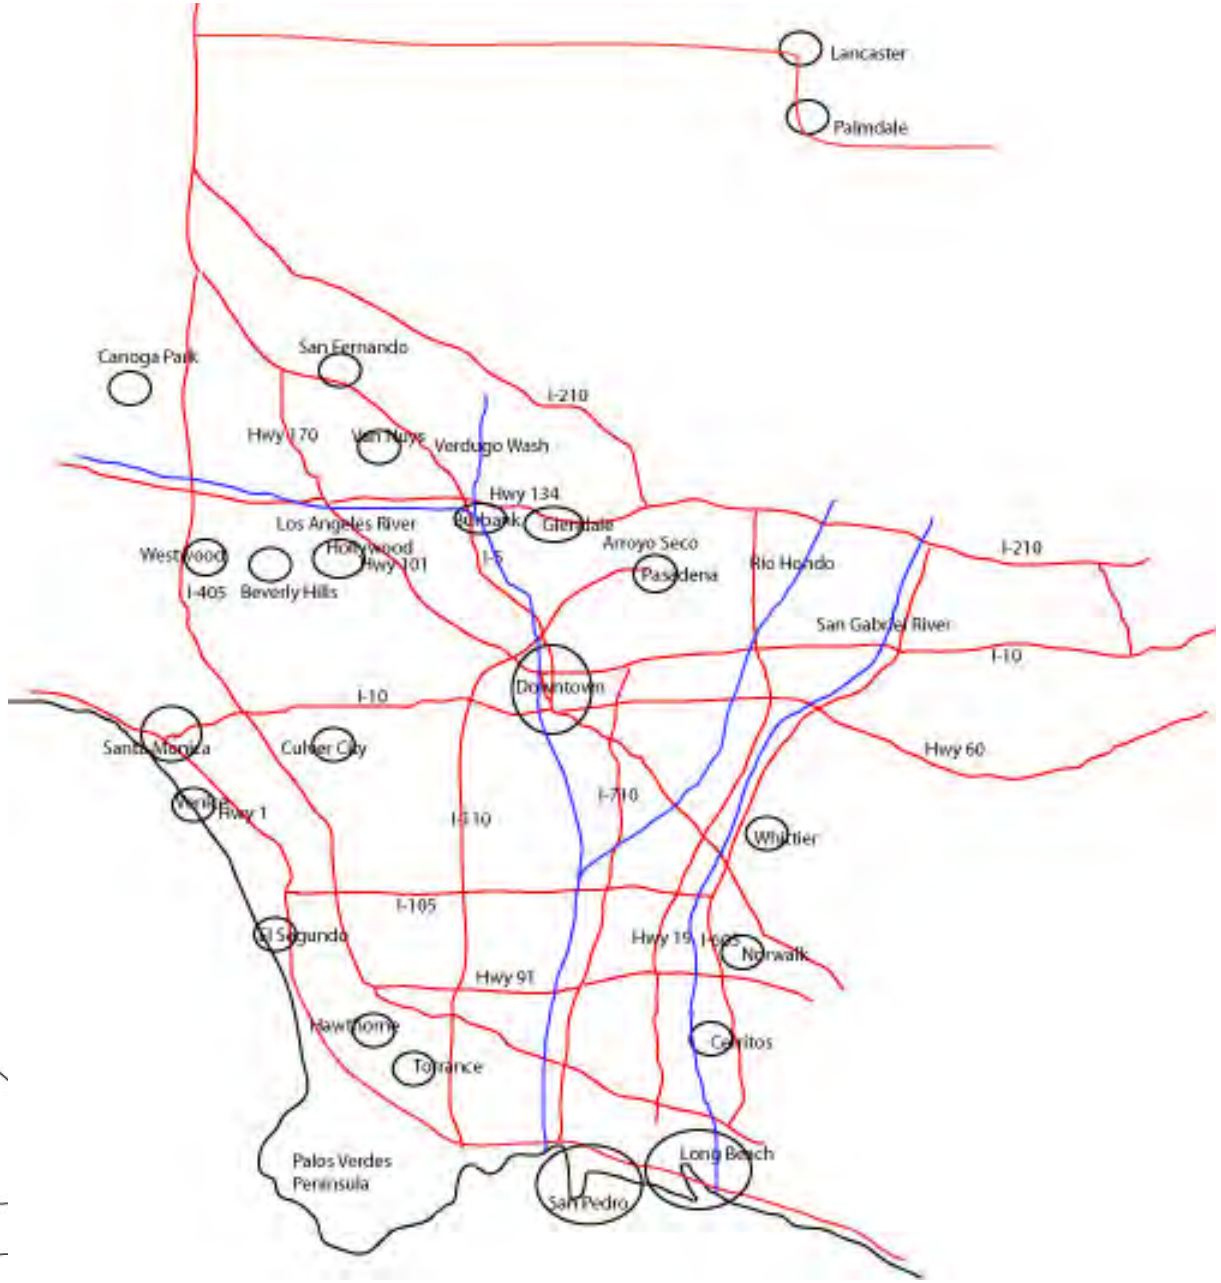
Los Angeles County

The Los Angeles Civic Center.
Part 2 of 25: San Gabriel Valley-La Puente, Monrovia, Bradbury, Duarte, Baldwin Park...

Los Angeles County

© 2012 by Larry Stevens
stevens.lawrence@comcast.net

La Puente
Monrovia
Bradbury
Duarte
Baldwin Park
Industry
Sierra Madre
Arcadia
El Monte
South El Monte



La Puente

La Puente was incorporated in 1956. It has a population of 40,000. (May 2004).

La Puente

This theatre has appeared in a number of commercials. (May 2004).

La Puente

(May 2004).

La Puente

(May 2004)

La Puente

(May 2004)

La Puente

(May 2004).

Monrovia

Monrovia is the fourth oldest city in Los Angeles County. It has a population of 37,000. (December 2002)

Monrovia

Monrovia

(December 2002)

Monrovia

(December 2002)

(December 2002)

Bradbury

Bradbury is a wealthy community. It has only 1,000 residents who mostly live behind gated roads. (December 2005)

Bradbury

(December 2005)

Bradbury

(December 2005)

Duarte

The city was incorporated in 1957. The population is now 21,321. Route 66 runs through the middle of town. (December 2005)

Duarte

(December 2005)

Duarte

(December 2005)

Duarte

(December 2005)

Baldwin Park

Baldwin Park's claim to fame is that In-N-Out Burger was started here in 1948. It was the first drive-thru in the state. The city has a population of 75,390. It incorporated in 1956. (May 2004)

Baldwin Park

(May 2004)

Baldwin Park

(May 2004)

Baldwin Park

(May 2004)

Baldwin Park

(May 2004)

Baldwin Park

(May 2004)

Baldwin Park

(May 2004)

Baldwin Park

(May 2004)

City of Industry

This is an industrial town. Only 219 people live here. There are 2,500 businesses and 80,000 jobs. It was incorporated in 1957. (May 2004)

City of Industry

(May 2004)

City of Industry

(May 2004)

City of Industry

(May 2004)

Sierra Madre

This town of 11,000 is famous for its wisteria vine. (May 2009)

Sierra Madre

(May 2009)

Sierra Madre

(May 2009)

Sierra Madre

(May 2009)

Sierra Madre

(May 2009)

Sierra Madre

(May 2009)

Sierra Madre

(May 2009)

Sierra Madre

(May 2009)

Arcadia

The population is now 56,634. The town is dominated by the Arboretum and Santa Anita Park Race Track across the street. The race track dates from 1934. (July 2004)

Arcadia

(July 2004)

Arcadia

(July 2004)

Arcadia

(July 2004)

Arcadia

(July 2004)

Arcadia

(July 2004)

Arcadia

El Monte

The town became incorporated in 1912. Today it has a population of 113,000.

El Monte

(May 2004)

El Monte

(May 2004)

El Monte

(May 2004)

South El Monte

The population of this gritty industrial city is 20,000. It incorporated in 1958. It is mostly Hispanic. (December 2003)

South El Monte

(December 2003)

South El Monte

(December 2003)

South El Monte

(December 2003)

South El Monte

(December 2003)