

Sacramento County

The Sacramento County Courthouse in Sacramento

Part 3 Of 3: Galt, Elk Grove, Rancho Cordova,
Folsom, Fair Oaks, Citrus Heights, Nimbus Dam

Galt

(March 2003)

Galt

Galt is taking on the trappings of urban sprawl as a city on the county's southern border. It is most famous for its huge flea market. (March 2003)

Galt

(March 2003)

Galt

(March 2003)

Galt

Galt

Galt

Galt

Galt

Galt

Galt

Rancho Seco

Rancho Seco is a nuclear power plant that didn't work very well so it was shut down decades ago. It is a few miles east of Galt.

Herald

Herald is a community near the abandoned nuclear plant.

Elk Grove

Elk Grove became a city in 2000. The city has grown to 153,000 mostly between I-5 and Highway 99 in the Laguna Creek and Laguna West areas. The old town is east of Highway 99. It began as a stage stop in 1850.

Elk Grove

(March 2003)

Elk Grove

(March 2003)

Elk Grove

(March 2003)

Elk Grove

(March 2003)

Elk Grove

(March 2003)

Elk Grove

(March 2003)

Rancho Cordova

Rancho Cordova became an incorporated city in 2003. It has a population of 65,000. (December 2006)

Nimbus

Nimbus Dam controls the water flow from Folsom Dam. It also has a fish hatchery.

Nimbus

Fair Oaks

Fair Oaks calls itself a village. 31,000 people live in the area. The plaza in the downtown was built in 1918.

Fair Oaks

Fair Oaks

Fair Oaks

Fair Oaks

Folsom

Folsom is an old Gold Rush town. Gold dredging continued here until the 1950's. Today the town has large Intel and HP plants and a population of 72,000.

Folsom

Folsom

Folsom

Folsom

Folsom

Folsom

Folsom

Folsom

Folsom-Rainbow Bridge

Folsom Power Plant

Folsom Power Plant

The hydroelectric power plant opened in 1895. It delivered electricity to Sacramento 22 miles away.

Folsom Power Plant

Folsom Power Plant

Folsom Prison

Folsom Prison

Folsom Prison was built in 1880.

Folsom Dam

Folsom Dam was completed in 1956.

Citrus Heights

Citrus Heights

Citrus Heights was incorporated in 1997. It has a population around 85,000. It is part of the sprawl that has extended along Interstate 80.

