

San Diego County

The county courthouse in San Diego.
Part 5 of 6: Poway, Lakeshore, Santee, El Cajon, La
Mesa, Lemon Grove.

San Diego County

© 2012 by Larry Stevens
stevens.lawrence@comcast.net

Poway

Looking down on Poway. At the bottom of the photo you see a ribbon of burned trees. A large wildfire, the Cedar fire, came close to torching the community in 2003. (July 2004)

Poway

(July 2004)

Poway

(July 2004)

Poway

(July 2004)

Poway

(July 2004)

Lakeside

Lakeside was founded 1886 as a resort community. It looks a bit worn now. The population is 20,648. (July 2004)

Lakeside

There are a number of gravel plants in the San Diego River bed. (July 2004)

Lakeside

(July 2004)

Lakeside

(July 2004)

Lakeside

(July 2004)

Lakeside

(July 2004)

Lakeside

(July 2004)

Lakeside

(July 2004)

Lakeside

(July 2004)

Lakeside

(July 2004)

Lakeside

(July 2004)

Lakeside

(July 2004)

El Cajon

El Cajon means "big box" in English. The population of this town is 100,116. (July 2004)

El Cajon

(July 2004)

El Cajon

(July 2004)

El Cajon

(July 2004)

El Cajon

(July 2004)

El Cajon

(July 2004)

El Cajon

(July 2004)

El Cajon

(July 2004)

El Cajon

(July 2004)

El Cajon

(July 2004)

Santee

Santee was incorporated in 1980. The population is 53,413. (July 2004)

Santee

(July 2004)

Santee

(July 2004)

Santee

The city hall has these unique river rock Pillars. (July 2004)

Santee

(July 2004)

Santee

(July 2004)

Santee

(July 2004)

La Mesa

This pleasant town was founded in 1869 and incorporated in 1912. It has a population of 57,065. (July 2004)

La Mesa

(July 2004)

La Mesa

(July 2004)

La Mesa

(July 2004)

La Mesa

(July 2004)

La Mesa

(July 2004)

La Mesa

(July 2004)

La Mesa

(July 2004)

La Mesa

(July 2004)

La Mesa

(July 2004)

La Mesa

(July 2004)

La Mesa

(July 2004)

Lemon Grove

The community was established in 1869. The population is 25,320. This community was the first to be required to desegregate its public schools. This was back in 1936. Mexicans sued to end segregation. (July 2004)

Lemon Grove

(July 2004)

Lemon Grove

(July 2004)

Lemon Grove

(July 2004)

Lemon Grove

(July 2004)

Bonita

Bonita is a suburb to the south of San Diego. It has a population of 12,538. (February 2008)

Bonita

(February 2008)

Bonita

(February 2008)

