

California Trip #123

This was a short trip out to the Mondavi Winery to visit the Lodi Art League show on May 13, 2012. It is the largest juried art show in Northern California.

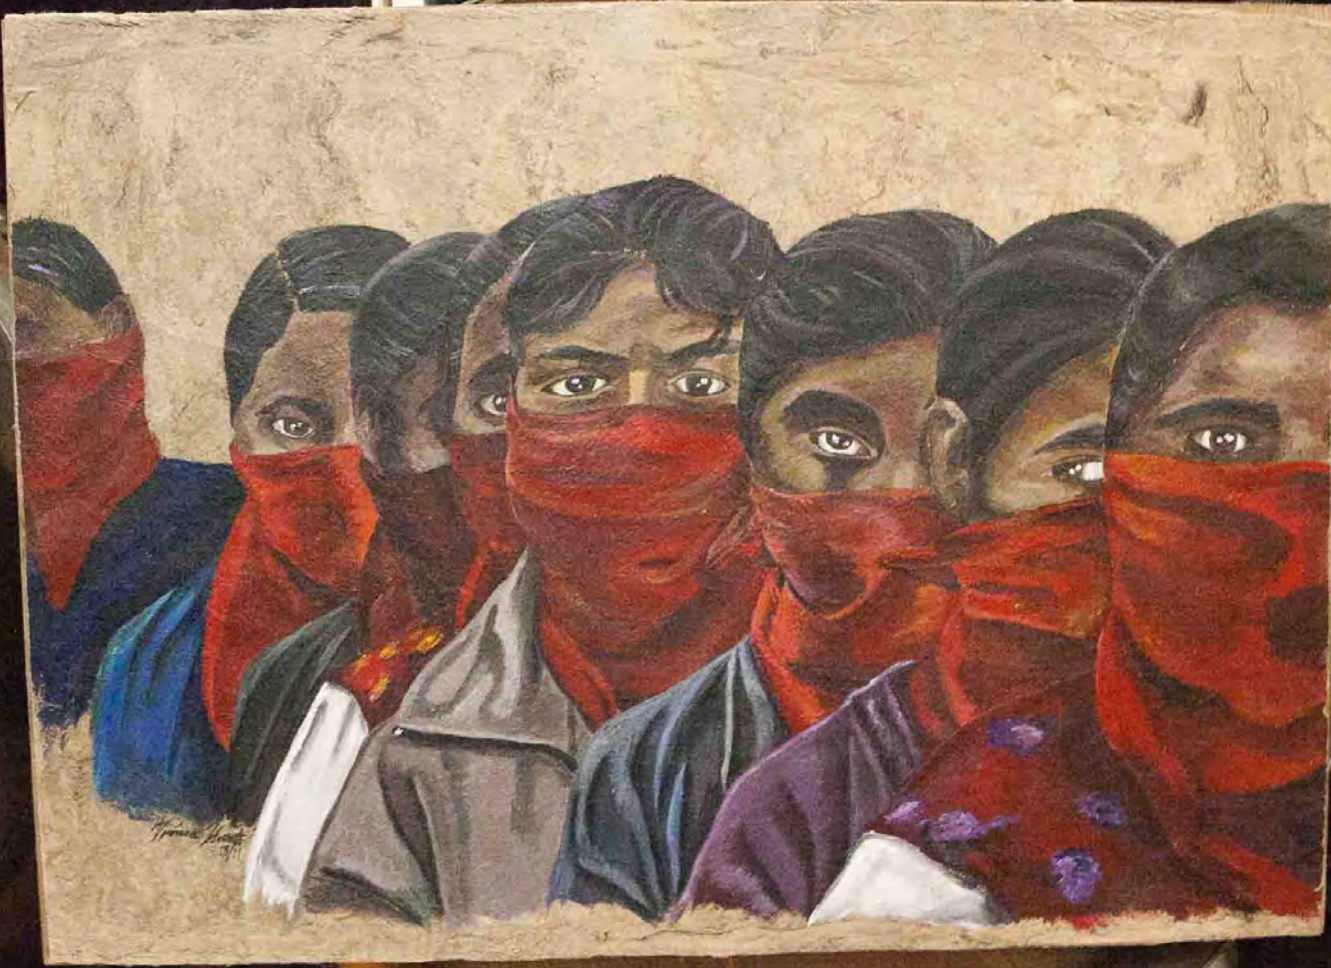

The event was held in warehouse where wine is stored. That was interesting in itself.

This piece was for sale for $ 10,000. The detail of the work on this vase was incredible.

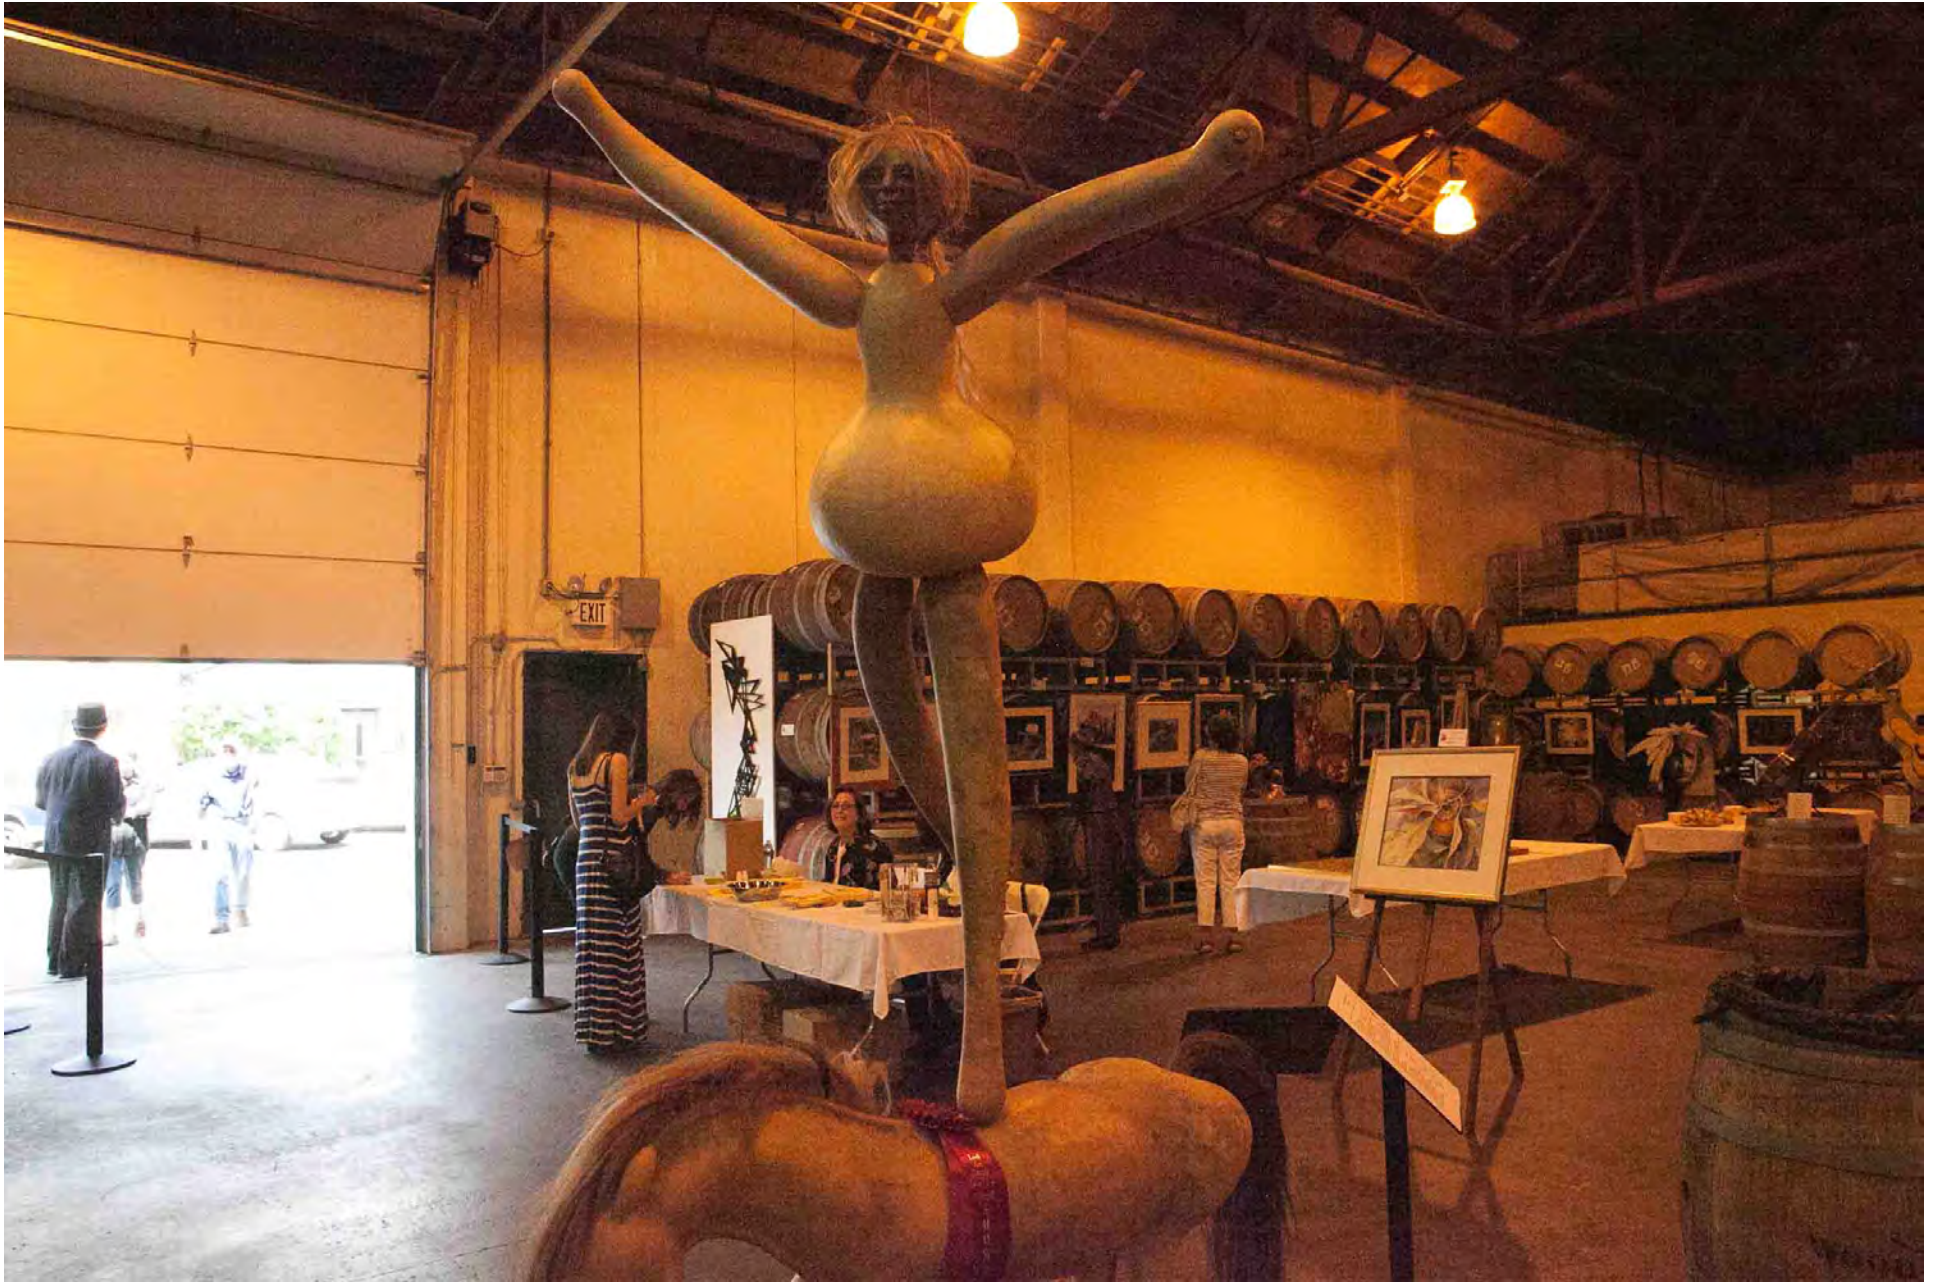

This was the art show winner.
